It was the most frightening experience of my life. To begin with, when I was a student I took part in the geographic society. There were just 5 members of in our team. Four of them you can see in the photo. As you guessed, I've made this picture. By the way, the man with the camera is my friend Bob. He was the leader of our group and it was his idea to make a film about forest. So, he could pay his life ^{with} for the hobby. It's interesting to know that Bob didn't like to run, though his body's complexion was great, but this time he had to run extremely fast.

Our trip was really good in the beginning. However, I've been overwhelmed all the time because I had a feeling that something would go wrong. Nevertheless, my friends told me: "You're very stressed. Everything will be great". Well, unfortunately, it turned out that I was right. When we arrived to the place, Peter, the one who is in the black t-shirt in the photo, told me: "We left food in the car, go and take it, please, while we are preparing". As you understood, when I was on my way back to them, I found them like this. I helped Bob, but the bear was too close to us. We had nothing but to act like we are dead. It was a miracle that this monster didn't eat us!
